

Job Advertisement

Title: Research Scientist – Grant Writer

City: Bengaluru, India

Company Overview:

Foundation for Neglected Disease Research (FNDR) is a not for profit start up organization based out Bengaluru, working towards discovery of new drugs and diagnostics in the space of neglected diseases and other diseases of interest to India.

Job Description:

This job involves applying for various grants and awards applications on behalf of the organization. The scope of these applications is broad in terms of length and complexity. The candidate will have to find the requirements for a grant application, prepare all the documents (scientific/non-scientific), collect the information that is needed for an application from multiple parties and collaborators, submit the applications, and following up on them.

Qualifications:

- PhD degree (life sciences/pharma/biology) or
- Master's degree (life sciences/pharma/biology) with proven track record in scientific/non-scientific writing

Roles and Responsibilities:

- Prepare and submit grant awards and applications
- Keep a track of applied applications
- Find out new funding opportunities
- Prepare other scientific reports

Technical Skills required

- English writing
- Read and understand scientific literature (life sciences, pharma, biology)
- Converting concepts and ideas into well referenced documents

Basic Skills required

- Ability to work independently with enthusiasm
- Decision making
- Knowledge of drug discovery processes and development
- Excellent oral, written and interpersonal communication skills and proficiency in English
- Ability to interact with people from diverse background
- Ability to work under regular deadlines

Other Information

- Candidate must be a citizen of India
- Salary commensurate with experience

---

Foundation for Neglected Disease Research

CIN: U73200KA2014NPL076126

Plot No: 20A, KIADB Industrial Area, Veerapura Village, Doddaballapura, Bengaluru 561203. Karnataka, India |
Phone – +91 80 27630156 Web – www.fndr.in. Email – inquiry@fndr.in